

Turner for Concrete

The time to start your building is not when prices have begun to advance, but when the decline has nearly run its course.

We figure that time is close at hand.

TURNER Construction Co.
1718 Sanson Street

BELFAST FUNERAL UNIQUE

Sinn Fein Pays Final Reverence to Two Slain Brothers

Belfast, April 27.—(By A. P.)—A funeral unique in the history of Belfast was held today when Patrick and Daniel Duffin, brothers shot at midnight Sunday, were buried. Sinn Fein honours were paid from Falls road to King street, where the military assumed control.

The two motor hearse containing the bodies were preceded by armored marching bands with guns. In front of the hearse was a large field of soldiers. Behind them was another armored car. In Falls road shops were closed and all traffic suspended.

The coffins were draped with republican flags. Great crowds of soldiers and police lined the route. The excitement culminated in a clash in which a young man was critically wounded by a gunshot fired from an armored car. Three others were wounded slightly.

Killed by Blow of Fist

Chicago, April 27.—(By A. P.)—A blow from a taxi driver's fist following his alleged refusal to pay his fare today resulted in the death of John E. Blum, who had been riding with two brothers, Harry and Howard Blum, of Everett. The Blums' father died Sunday and was to be buried today. The taxi driver, Edward Siegel, told the police the three men had hired his machine early in the morning, but came bawling and broke the windows, and then refused to pay the fare.

WOLFINGTON
The Name on Your Grandfather's Brougham

Sears of the Road

Don't perpetuate the "humps." Let us fix the broken fenders, remove the dents and other "sears." Quick service. Moderate charges.

Phone: Poplar 113

WOLFINGTON
19th and Buttonwood
Established 1876

A Dancer's Charm

lies principally in graceful freedom and exposure of beautiful shoulders and arms. You, wearing this season's short fabrics and low-cut gowns, may enjoy a delightful unconscious freedom.

DEL-A-TONE

is a scientific preparation made by beauty experts to safely remove the hair from face, neck, shoulders, arms, legs, etc., without pain, irritation, or redness. It is light, easy to apply, and does not stain. It is a beauty secret that every girl should know.

At Any Druggist's or Department Store

DEL-A-TONE

is a scientific preparation made by beauty experts to safely remove the hair from face, neck, shoulders, arms, legs, etc., without pain, irritation, or redness. It is light, easy to apply, and does not stain. It is a beauty secret that every girl should know.

At Any Druggist's or Department Store

CENTRAL TRUST AND SAVINGS CO.

Market and Fourth Sts. PHILADELPHIA

Dollars in Danger

Money carried around in pockets and purses offers strong temptations to the light-fingered and strong-armed.

Bring your money here and we will keep it working for you day and night at interest.

CAPITAL & SURPLUS $1,500,000.00

WIDOW IS SNUBBED AT OYSTER FUNERAL

Dead Man's Brother Turns Away When He Meets Her at Church

LEGAL BATTLE IS PLANNED

Washington, April 27.—Mrs. Cecil R. Oyster, the twenty-six-year-old widow of George M. Oyster, Jr., aged Washington millionaire, was a pathetic figure at the funeral of her husband yesterday.

It was apparent that the estrangement between the couple, which resulted in a death-bed codicil cutting her off from the vast Oyster estate, had extended even to members of the two families.

The young widow was ignored by all her husband's relatives. When she alighted from her automobile in front of the chapel, she was brought face-to-face with District Commissioner James P. Oyster, brother of the former dairy king. This comports with her own story.

Following the services all the members of the Oyster family proceeded with the body to Oak Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Oyster, however, accompanied by her mother and sister, hurried back to her apartment in the Wardman Park Hotel. Late last night she had spent an hour beside the coffin in the undertaker's chapel.

E. C. Brandenburg, attorney for Oyster, admitted today that he had drawn a codicil to the will by which the young widow was disinherited. He would give no further particulars.

Daniel W. O'Donoghue, Mrs. Oyster's counsel, would not say whether she would attack the will. He might make a formal statement later, he said.

Under the law, Mrs. Oyster can bring no action until thirteen months after the will has been admitted to probate. She can claim one-half her husband's personal property and one-third his real estate, O'Donoghue says.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 27.—Among the friends of Mrs. Cecil Reading Oyster in this city it is understood that she received a marriage settlement of $250,000. The will of her husband, it is said, gave virtually the entire Oyster estate to the bride a few months ago. Oyster's income is said to have been about $50,000 a year. He was known as a free spender and recently told Syracuse friends that he was spending about as much as he made. His income was virtually all from his dairy business, and he owned little or no property. The one farm which Oyster owned is known to have been heavily mortgaged.

MRS. CHARLES E. TOWNSEND

Before her marriage to Senator Townsend, of Michigan, a short time ago, she was Miss Nanette B. Loomis, of Jackson, Mich.

The will of her husband, it is said, gave virtually the entire Oyster estate to the bride a few months ago. Oyster's income is said to have been about $50,000 a year. He was known as a free spender and recently told Syracuse friends that he was spending about as much as he made. His income was virtually all from his dairy business, and he owned little or no property. The one farm which Oyster owned is known to have been heavily mortgaged.

NEWSPAPERS TOLD NOT TO CUT RATES

Head of Publishers' Association Fears Demoralization in Newsprint Market

PRODUCTION COST AT PEAK

By the Associated Press

New York, April 27.—Warning against a possible future demoralization in the newsprint market, T. R. Williams, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, in his address today opening the thirty-fourth convention of that body, said newspaper rates should not be allowed to descend.

He urged upon newspaper publishers the need of co-operating with government forces in restoring world peace and bringing business conditions back to normalcy, and especially in repealing unnecessary wartime legislation and obnoxious features of federal taxation laws. These, he said, have admittedly been greatly responsible for the upsetting of sane business.

"With these fundamentals established," he declared, "it will be with more telling effect that newspapers can continue preaching the gospel of optimism, the restoring of confidence, the bringing back to normalcy of our country's business."

"Obviously the accomplishment of these things forms the solution of our present newspaper problems, which, gathered together and boiled down to a phrase, is abnormally high cost of production."

Moved

to our modern equipped factory

37th and Filbert Sts.
ROSE MFG. CO.

Neverout

Products for Autos

CLENSOL COCOANUT OIL SHAMPOO

When you see hair soft, lustrous and long it has been shampooed with CLENSOL.

At All Druggists

35c

"SUBWAYMEN" THE LATEST

One of Three Robbers Who Flees in New York Tube Is Caught

New York, April 27.—(By A. P.)—After three men held up a French steamship chief in a Brooklyn subway station early today and robbed him of $325, one of the robbers took refuge in the subway tube leading under the East river to Manhattan.

The Frenchman related his plight in broken English to the ticket agent, who started several workmen, armed with crowbars, wrenches and other tools, in pursuit.

The fugitive, who gave his name as Harry Gross, was caught after he had traversed the subterranean passage to Wall street, having successfully dodged several subway trains that roared through the tunnel. The other two assailants escaped.

NEW VIRGIN WOOL TWEEDS
(No Shoddy)

In herringbone, feather and twill weaves; in gray, brown and tan colors.

To be made into business or sports suits.

$45

Tailored to measure

WILLIAM H. WANAMAKER
1217-19 Chestnut Street

EXCELLENT TROUT FISHING

State Commission Pleased at Results of Propagation

Harrisburg, April 27.—"Reports reaching me from almost every part of the State tell of unusually fine catches of trout this season. Perhaps it is the weather; perhaps the propagation work is getting in results," said Nathaniel R. Buller, Commissioner of Fisheries.

"We have had reports now from every section of the State where there is trout fishing, and many of the reports are extremely pleasing. In fact, some of them are so good I had them verified. Successful experiments have been carried on with rainbow trout. The rainbow variety was placed in a number of streams in the lower Susquehanna Valley. In northern counties some fine fishing for brook trout has been reported to Mr. Buller."

Gold and Platinum Bar Pins

Our stock has been replenished with so many new and artistic patterns that it is only a question of which to choose.

A dainty, platinum front bar pin of pierced design, with diamond center—$28.

S. Kind & Sons, 1110 Chestnut St.
DIAMOND MERCHANTS—JEWELERS—SILVERSMITHS

Founded in 1865

The House that Heppe built

Introduced the One-Price System in 1881

Downtown—1117-1119 Chestnut Street Uptown—6th and Thompson Streets

A HEPPE PIANOLA-PIANO
embodying all the wonderful exclusive Aeolian features at $785

No more than you are asked to pay for imitations

To possess a genuine Pianola-Piano—made by the great Aeolian Company of New York—embodying the famous Aeolian-Pianola player-action, guaranteed by the Aeolian Company and by C. J. Heppe & Son, and securely protected in its finest features by valuable patents, is to know that you own the best player-piano that the piano industry offers.

When you step to think that all this excellence can be had at $785, why should any intelligent person buy an imitation.

We are the Aeolian agents in Philadelphia. If your Player-Piano does not come from Heppe's, it is not a genuine Heppe-Piano.

C. J. Heppe & Son, 1117-1119 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia
(Sixth & Thompson Streets)

Please send me full particulars about the Heppe Pianola-Piano and your 3-year Rental-Payment Plan.

Name: _____
Address: _____
Ledger 4 27 21

How Great-Grandfather Safe-Guarded His Water Supply

Earlier Philadelphians were content with "their own good pump water" until after the yellow fever epidemic of 1793. Six years later the Schuylkill water works was constructed.

The citizens had learned the worth of collective effort in the safeguarding of their water supply. Today, just as their great grandchildren recognize the importance of their great modern water system, so they appreciate the value of collective experience, ability and honesty in banking and fiduciary matters.

To the service of its customers, whatever their banking or trust requirements, the Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company brings complete equipment, experienced organizations and the desire to work WITH as well as FOR those who favor it with their patronage.

Our officers will be glad to discuss with you the various ways in which we can be of service.

GUARANTEE TRUST AND SAFE DEPOSIT CO.
316-18-20 CHESTNUT STREET
1415 CHESTNUT STREET 9 SOUTH 52D STREET

A New Achievement in the Making of a Rich and Beautiful Magazine

THE May CENTURY is a new CENTURY. New in the beauty of its cover, its decoration and its illustrations. New in the charm of paper and typographical dress. New in the richness of its editorial contents. We believe you will say it is by far the finest magazine you have ever seen.

Get this new CENTURY today. You will find a superb reading section of one hundred and sixty pages, with a brilliant collection of short stories, articles and essays by the foremost writers of the day. Sinclair Lewis, author of "Main Street," Sir Gilbert Murray, Alexander Black, Phyllis Bottome, Frederick O'Brien—These are but a few of the notable contributors to the May CENTURY.

With this May issue, the leadership of The CENTURY for more than fifty years is emphasized. A new standard is set; a new triumph in magazine making is achieved.

The CENTURY for May

Under the editorial direction of Glenn Frank, the new CENTURY is attracting a notable group of contributors. In The CENTURY with its proud traditions, they recognize a worthy vehicle for the finest expressions of art and letters. The contents of the May issue are a promise for the future.

What you will find in the May CENTURY

The frontispiece is a beautiful color-tone portrait of John S. Sargent, engraved for The CENTURY by Davison.

THE POST-MORTEM MURDER
By Sinclair Lewis
An exceptionally stirring short story by the author of "Main Street."

THE TROUBLESOMENESS OF BULBULS
By Edward A. Morphy
A fascinating essay-story of Indian Jungles, wonderfully illustrated.

AT HOME IN THE MODERN WORLD
By Sir Gilbert Murray
A thoughtful article by one of Britain's foremost scholars. It discusses the biggest problem that engrosses the world today.

THE LATEST THING
By Alexander Black
An essay by the author of "The Great Desire" which created a literary sensation last year, and whose novel "The Seventh Angel" is just off the press.

TO THE STARS
By Anzia Yezierska
A human, self-story by this remarkable young writer to whom many critics gave first place in the fiction of 1920. Splendidly illustrated.

THE CRYSTAL HEART
By Phyllis Bottome
Part One of a new serial by the author of "The Dark Tower." Beautifully illustrated.

JULIUS CAESAR'S STENOGRAPHER
By John R. Gregg
It will be surprising that shorthand was used to report "The Sermon on the Mount," "Caesar's Commentaries," "Cicero's Orations," and "Martin Luther's Sermons." The author is the inventor of a well-known system of shorthand. Quaint illustrations.

THE HAIRS OF THE OCCASION
By James Mahoney
A whimsical French story with good fun and swift action.

BRITON BLOOD AND GIPSY INSTINCT
By Charmian London
The opening chapter of Jack London's Biography, written by his wife.

THE MENACE OF MIGRATING PEOPLES
By Edward Atworth Ross
A brilliant study of an important problem and also a fascinating story.

I WALK WITH A PRINCESS
By Frederick O'Brien
A charming fact-story of the South Seas, by the author of "White Shadows." Superb illustrations.

Travel Articles by Harry Franck and Charles Hanson Towne, "Mr. Lansing's Plain Speech" by Herbert Adams Gibbons, "The Tide of Affairs" Editorial Forum conducted by the Editor of CENTURY, Glenn Frank, and a number of delightful poems complete this most remarkable magazine.

While upholding a fine literary tradition, The CENTURY is a vital publication, alive to the great problems and the best thought of our time. It is a magazine for all people of intelligence and appreciation.

All News-dealers—TODAY—50 cents

Stop at your news-stand today. Buy a copy of the May CENTURY. Examine it from cover to cover. It will exceed your highest expectations. Then to be certain The CENTURY reaches your library table every month, forward your subscription at $5 per year to THE CENTURY COMPANY, Publishers, 353 Fourth Avenue, New York.